

FHLBANK SYSTEM DEBT & CAPITAL STOCK OVERVIEW

Federal Home Loan Bank (FHLBank) Debt

FHLBank debt securities are joint and several obligations of the 11 FHLBanks. Each FHLBank is responsible not only for the repayment of its own participation in a debt issue, but also potentially responsible for the indebtedness of the other ten FHLBanks. The Office of Finance of the FHLBanks (the fiscal agent of the FHLBanks) issues FHLBank consolidated debt in a variety of forms: Discount Notes, Global bonds and TAPs*. FHLBank debt securities are not obligations of the United States (U.S.) and carry no explicit U.S. Government guarantee. FHLBank debt securities are exempt from the registration requirements of the Securities Act of 1933 and deemed as “exempted securities” under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

FHLBank debt securities are rated by both Moody’s and Standard & Poor’s (S&P). Currently, long-term debt issued by the FHLBanks is rated Aa1 by Moody’s and AA+ by S&P; all short-term debt is rated P-1 by Moody’s and A-1+ by S&P. According to Moody’s and S&P, these ratings reflect the FHLBank System’s financial strength, sound management, low derivatives risk exposure, status as a Government Sponsored Enterprise, and links to the U.S. Government.

Bank & Thrift Regulators:

(OCC, FDIC, OTS) For risk-based capital purposes, U.S. Government Sponsored Enterprises (GSE) are defined as agencies originally established or chartered by the U.S. government to serve public purposes specified by the U.S. Congress. The OCC, FDIC and the OTS assign a 20% risk weight to claims collateralized by cash on deposit in the FHLBanks or by securities issued or guaranteed by the U.S. GSEs. Claims on U.S. GSEs also include capital stock in an FHLBank that is held as a condition of membership in that bank.

Credit Union Regulators:

(NCUA) A credit union's risk-based net worth requirement is an aggregate of many different component amounts, each expressed as a percentage of the credit union's quarter-end total assets reflected in its call report. Among these components are investments, defined as the capital in U.S. GSEs, which also includes capital stock and member paid-in capital. The NCUA weighs the risks of FHLBank debt and capital stock at 20%.

Insurance Company Regulators:

(NAIC) The NAIC risk-based capital system was created to provide a capital adequacy standard related to risk that raises a safety net for insurers which is uniform among the states and provides regulatory authority for timely action. FHLBank capital stock and debt are classified "1," which is the NAIC's highest classification.
